Because SerahrUHU is provided free of charge, there is no claim to any particular availability and no service level (SLA) is guaranteed. The provider is entitled to change, restrict, or discontinue the service in whole or in part at any time, insofar as this is reasonable for the user.

5. Liability

The provider gives no warranty for the accuracy, completeness, and timeliness of the food and nutrient data or other information and calculations displayed in the app. Likewise, no liability is assumed for health outcomes (e.g. weight or nutrition outcomes).

The provider's liability is limited to intent and gross negligence. In the case of slight negligence, the provider is liable only for the breach of a material contractual obligation (cardinal obligation) and limited to the typical, foreseeable damage. Liability for damage arising from injury to life, body, or health and under the Product Liability Act remains unaffected. Otherwise, liability is excluded to the extent permitted by law.

The above liability provisions also apply to the loss of data. We recommend backing up your data regularly yourself via the export function (JSON export).

6. User Obligations

- The user provides truthful information on registration and keeps their access credentials confidential.
- The user does not use the app abusively or in a way that impairs its operation or security.

7. Term and Termination

all stored data (see Privacy Policy).

8. Changes to These Terms

The provider may amend these Terms. In the case of material changes(changes affecting the user's rights or essential obligations), the user will be informed and asked for renewed consent. Editorial or purely clarifying changes take effect without separate consent.

9. Applicable Law and Jurisdiction

The law of the Federal Republic of Germany applies. For consumers, the statutory places of jurisdiction apply, in particular the place of jurisdiction at their place of residence; we do not make any agreement deviating from this to the detriment of consumers.
